

Mean, Median, Mode (Part 2)

1. Bimodal refers to

- a. a data set with a lot of “2s.”
- b. a person in a data set that has 2 different interests.
- c. a data set that has 2 modes.

2. An outlier in a data set refers to

- a. a particular data point that has an extreme value.
- b. a person in a data set that doesn't understand what is being accomplished.
- c. a data set that is the opposite of all other data.

2. A student collected the following data set: 89, 78, 93, 85, 91 and 22. 22 is considered the

- a. mean.
- b. mode.
- c. outlier.