*Description Nonfiction Text Structure
(main idea and details)*

Have you ever wanted all the details? Join Josh and Cali in the research lab as they THINK ALOUD and learn how authors use Description Nonfiction Text Structure (also known as Main Ideas and Details) to describe characteristics, features, attributes, or examples of a person, place, thing, or idea.

In this video, you will learn to:

- think about descriptions
- identify signal words
- create graphic organizers
